character, the time will surely come when upon the lowest grounds of pru-dence, it upon no other, they will bitterly repent their silly indiscretion. We can tell them that they have thrown away chances which may never return, and opportunities of study and of useful acquisition which busy men advanced in life and harrassed by daily cares hunger for in vain. They have wantonly cast behind them leisure seclusion, the assistance of accomplished and willing instructors, and the indispensable aid of well-furnished libraries and museums. It they have not made a fatal mistake, they have at least run the risk of it.

Speculation in Germany.

The influx of money into Germany, which has been occasioned by the success of the French war, has produced its legitimate results in awakening a spirit of reckless speculation, which appears to have taken possession of all classes. The necessaries of life have advanced 25 or 50 per cent. in price, and real estate has risen more than 100 per cent. in certain speculative sections. Stock companies of all kinds are being formed Among other indications of this spirit, it may be mentioned that even that conservative institution, the bank of Berhas established special branches with 7,000,000 capital in Shanghai and Yokohama, and taken a new Chinese railway under its protecting agis. Mr. Emil Seligman, lately of Tarrytown, is the head of the concern. German financiers may well ask themselves whither they are tending; and it does not appear altogether improbable that the in-demnity demanded of France may work quite as much harm as good to the conquerors .- Financier.

A Good HAND.-It is related by an estimable and very pious lady, whose exertions in every work of charity and benevolence have endeared her to our community, that on her way to Sabbath school one bright Sunday morning, she saw several boys, one of whom was a newsboy, seated in a doorway playing cards; one of them was a Sunday school scholar of the lady. She stopped and insisted that they should accompany her to church. After some persuasion the three eldest consented, but the youngest, a lad of some six years, persistently refused.

SMALL-Pox.-An effectual remedy for small-pox is said to have been found by a surgeon in the British army in China. The mode of treatment is as follows: When the preceding fever is at its height, and just before the eruption appears, the chest is rubbed with cross oil and tartaric ointment. This causes the whole
